From Our Pastor

In this weekend's second reading, St. Paul offers some encouraging words for anyone who might feel physically and even spiritually weak. And in the Gospel Jesus presents life as the journey of a plant from sowing to fruition reminding us that the seed of the Word that falls on good soil appears to die as it germinates in the darkness of the earth. But suddenly it sprouts, grows and bears fruits that will last. These fruits are the deeds of love that we have performed for the people around us. Jesus also talks about the wheat that the farmer "keeps" (Heaven is our final goal); whereas, the chaff is thrown into the fire where it is lost forever.

Yes, it can take quite an effort to keep our hearts fixed on God's love, but Paul offers us some encouraging words: "The Spirit helps us in our weakness" (Rom 8:26-27). The "effort" to stay focused on God's love is "prayer." It's that constant, sometimes subconscious "longing" for God that we all feel in our souls. Paul says that beneath that longing, that constant groaning, there is the Holy Spirit who is closer to us than we are to ourselves. The Holy Spirit prays whenever we pray, beyond what we say or feel, and that unpronounceable plea of the Holy Spirit that constantly rises from the depths of our soul is the Current of Love, as the Holy Spirit is sometimes called, the communion among the Persons of the Most Holy Trinity that is shared with us.

In practical terms, this means that whenever we are aware of our weaknesses, fragility and helplessness as we face situations that seem too much for us when even prayer might seem to be meaningless and ineffective, the "Spirit helps us in our weakness." He does so by generating in us new faith in God's immense love whose power, says Paul, "is perfected in weakness" (2 Cor 12:9).

And there is one prayer in which the Spirit almost becomes tangible, although in a mysterious but profound way. It's the prayer that Jesus told us about when he said: "If two or more of you agree on earth about anything you ask, it will be done for you by my Father in heaven. For where two or three are gathered in my name, I am there among them" (Mt 18:19-20). The effectiveness of this prayer lies completely in the words "in my name" which means in Jesus, in the dynamic of living his new commandment that we love one another.

Then Jesus becomes present with his Spirit, who is also the soul of the community. Our prayer to the Father is also Jesus's prayer, and the Holy Spirit intercedes for us to obtain what we do not have the strength or courage to ask. The Spirit helps us in our weakness.

De Parte de Nuestro Párroco

En la segunda lectura de este domingo, San Pablo ofrece algunas palabras consoladoras para quien se sienta físicamente e incluso espiritualmente débil. Y en el Evangelio Jesús presenta la vida como el crecimiento de una planta desde la siembra hasta la madurez recordándonos que la semilla de la Palabra que cae sobre un buena tierra parece morir mientras germina en las oscuridad de la tierra. Pero de repente brota, crece y da frutos que durarán. Estos frutos son los actos de amor que realizamos hace las personas que nos rodean. Jesús también habla del trigo que el granjero “guarda” (el Cielo es nuestro objetivo final); Mientras que la paja se lanza en el fuego donde se pierde para siempre.

Ciertamente nos toma un gran esfuerzo para mantener nuestros corazones fijos en el amor de Dios, pero Pablo nos ofrece algunas palabras alentadoras: “El Espíritu nos ayuda en nuestra debilidad” (Rom 8: 26-27). El “esfuerzo” de permanecer enfocados en el amor de Dios es “oración”. Es esa constante, a veces subconsciente “anhelo” de Dios que todos sentimos en nuestras almas. Pablo dice que bajo ese anhelo, ese constante gemido, está el Espíritu Santo que está más cerca de nosotros que nosotros mismos. El Espíritu Santo ora cada vez que oramos, más allá de lo que decimos o sentimos, y esa impronunciable súplica del Espíritu Santo que constantemente se eleva desde las profundidades de nuestra alma es la Corriente del Amor, como el Espíritu Santo a veces es llamado, la comunión entre las Personas de la Santísima Trinidad que es compartida con nosotros.

En términos prácticos, esto significa que cada vez que nos damos cuenta de nuestras debilidades, fragilidad e impotencia cuando nos enfrentamos a situaciones que parecen demasiado duras para nosotros y cuando incluso la oración puede parecer carente de sentido e ineficacia, el “Espíritu nos ayuda en nuestra debilidad.” Lo hace generando en nosotros una nueva fe en el inmenso amor de Dios cuyo poder, dice Pablo, “se perfecciona en la debilidad” (2 Cor 12, 9).

Y hay una oración en la que el Espíritu casi se vuelve tangible, aunque de una manera misteriosa pero profunda. Es la oración que Jesús nos pidió cuando dijo: “Si dos de ustedes se ponen de acuerdo sobre cualquier cosa que pidan aquí en la tierra, les será hecho por Mi Padre que está en los cielos. Porque donde están dos o tres reunidos en Mi nombre, allí estoy Yo en medio de ellos” (Mt 18, 19-20). La eficacia de esta oración radica completamente en las palabras “en mi nombre” que significa en Jesús, o sea, en la dinámica de vivir su nuevo mandamiento que nos amemos unos a otros.

Entonces Jesús se hace presente con su Espíritu, que es también el alma de la comunidad. Nuestra oración al Padre es también la oración de Jesús, y el Espíritu Santo intercede por nosotros para obtener lo que no tenemos la fuerza o la valentía de pedir. El Espíritu nos ayuda en nuestra debilidad. Padre Jesse Garcia
