"Do not be afraid; from now on it is men you will catch"

How great was Christ's courtesy! This Peter who spoke these words was once a fisherman and in our day a public speaker deserves high praise if he is able to converse with a fisherman! Addressing the first Christians the apostle Paul says: "Brothers and sisters remember what you were when you were called. Not many of you were wise according to human standards; not many of you were influential or of noble birth. But God chose what the world regards as weak in order to disconcert the strong; God chose what the world regards as foolish in order to abash the wise; God chose what the world regards as common and contemptible, of no account whatever, in order to overthrow the existing order" (1Cor 1:26-28).

If Christ had first chosen a man skilled in public speaking, such a man might well have said: "I have been chosen on account of my eloquence." If he had chosen a senator, the senator might have said: "I have been chosen because of my rank" If his first choice had been an emperor, the emperor surely might have said: "I have been chosen for the sake of the power I have at my disposal." Let these worthies keep quiet and defer to others; let them hold their peace for a while. I am not saying they should be passed over or despised; I am simply asking all those who can find any grounds for pride in what they are to give way to others just a little.

Christ says: Give me this fisherman, this man without education or experience, this man to whom no senator would deign to speak, not even if he were buying fish. Yes, give me him; once I have taken possession of him, it will be obvious that it is I who am at work in him. Although I mean to include senators, orators, and emperors among my recruits... I shall still be surer of the fisherman. The senator can always take pride in what he is; so can the orator and the emperor, but the fisherman can glory in nothing except Christ alone. Any of these other men may come and take lessons from me in the importance of humility for salvation, but let the fisherman come first.

Sermón 43, 5-5; CCL 41, 510-511

"No temas, desde ahora serás pescador de hombres"

¡Qué grande es la bondad de Cristo! Pedro ha sido pescador, y ahora un orador merece un gran elogio si es capaz de comprender a este pescador. Ved por qué el apóstol Pablo dirigiéndose a los primeros cristianos, dice: "Hermanos, fijaos en vuestra asamblea, no hay en ella muchos sabios en lo humano, ni muchos poderosos, ni muchos aristócratas; todo lo contrario, lo necio del mundo lo ha escogido Dios para humillar a los sabios... Ha escogido la gente baja del mundo, lo despreciable, lo que no cuenta" (1Co 1,26-28).

Porque si Cristo hubiese escogido en primer lugar a un orador, el orador hubiera podido decir: "Me ha escogido por mi elocuencia". Si hubiera escogido a un senador, el senador hubiera podido decir: "Me ha escogido a causa de mi rango". Si, en fin, hubiera escogido a un emperador, el emperador hubiera podido decir: "Me ha escogido a causa de mi poder. Que se calle toda esa gente, que esperen un poco y estén tranquilos. No serán olvidados ni rechazados; que esperen un poco, porque podrían gloriarse de lo que son en sí mismos.

"Dame, dice Cristo, este pescador, dame ese hombre simple y sin instrucción, dame ese hombre con el cual el senador no se digna hablar, ni tan sólo cuando le compra un pescado. Sí, dame ese hombre. Cuando lo habré llenado, se verá claramente que soy únicamente yo quien actúa. Ciertamente, llevaré a cabo mi obra en el senador, en el orador, en el emperador..., pero mi acción será más evidente en el pescador. El senador, el orador y el emperador pueden gloriarse de lo que ellos son: el pescador, únicamente de Cristo. Que el pescador venga a enseñarles la humildad que procura la salvación. Que el pescador pase primero."
