From Our Pastor

Divine Mercy Sunday has become part of the Easter celebration. It's always celebrated on the Second Sunday of Easter and was allegedly established by Jesus himself during his apparitions to Saint Faustina. His entire message to Faustina, which is rather lengthy, is entirely on his mercy toward sinners. Mercy is the characteristic of God's love and this perhaps explains why the Gospel of Matthew records Jesus's words when some publicans, public sinners, shared the table and ate with him. The Pharisees were scandalized and said to Jesus's disciples: "Why does your master eat with public sinners?" Hearing what they said, Jesus answered them: "Go and learn what this means: I desire mercy and not sacrifice" (Mt 9:13). Jesus was confirming the words of the prophet Hosea and declaring the rule by which he lived.

Jesus claimed that God wants us to deal with other people with love, and the words of the prophet Hosea show that this desire of God had already been made known in the Old Testament. Love should always take precedence over other laws. For Christians love is the only legitimate foundation on which all rules should be based.

Mercy is the main quality of God's love toward us, and he wants our love to have this quality. For Jesus, God is first and foremost the Merciful One, the Father who loves the good and the bad, who causes the sun to rise on the just and unjust alike. Why? Because God loves everyone, and so it should not surprise us that Jesus is not afraid to share the company of sinners. By doing so, he shows what God is like.

I desire mercy . . . and not sacrifice. If we don't love our brother and sister, our sacrifice, our worship will not be acceptable to Jesus. Our prayers will not interest him, our churchgoing or the offerings we make will not be acceptable to him, unless they come from a heart at peace with everyone, a heart rich with love for others. Remember those telling words of Jesus from the Sermon on the Mount: So, if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother or sister has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar and go; first be reconciled to your brother or sister and then come and offer your gift.

The worship that is most pleasing to God is love of neighbor. If you wanted to give your dad a present while you were angry with your brother or sister – or they with you – what would your father most likely say to you? "Make peace and then, by all means, come to offer me whatever you wish."

But love is not only the basic law of the Christian life, it's also the most direct way to God's heart. In his heart, God "desires" mercy. We can satisfy that desire by being merciful to others. Our mercy toward others will draw us closer to the heart of God, it will make our devotion grow and we'll become aware of the bond being established between us and the Lord.

Mercy means not discriminating. It means not excluding. It means being like God our Father by offering what we are able to give to everyone: our love. Heaven deplures both large and small disagreements in our lives. So settle them quickly and, as Scripture says, never let the sun go down on your anger. Let's decide to be merciful and every day will be a feast of Divine Mercy.

De Parte de Nuestro Pastor

El domingo de la Divina Misericordia se ha convertido parte de la celebración de la Pascua. Siempre se celebra el segundo domingo de Pascua y fue establecido por Jesús mismo durante sus apariciones a Santa Faustina. Su mensaje completo a Faustina, que es bastante largo, es totalmente de su misericordia hacia los pecadores. La misericordia es la característica del amor de Dios y esto tal vez explica por qué el Evangelio de Mateo registra palabras de Jesús cuando algunos publicanos, y los pecadores públicos compartieron la mesa y comieron con él. Los fariseos fueron escandalizados y dijeron a los discípulos de Jesús: "¿Por qué come su maestro con pecadores públicos?" Escuchando lo que dijeron, Jesús contestó: "Vaya y aprenda lo que esto significa: deseo la misericordia y no el sacrificio" (mateo 9:13). Jesús confirmaba las palabras del profeta Oseas y declaraba la regla según la cual vivió.

Jesús. Nuestras oraciones no le interesan, nuestro ir a la iglesia o las ofrendas que hacemos no serán aceptable para él, a menos, quiere El Señor que tengamos un corazón en paz con todos, un corazón con amor a los demás. Recordar aquellas palabras de Jesús del sermón de la montaña: así que, si están ofreciendo su regalo en el altar y allí recuerdan que su hermano o hermana tiene algo contra ti, deja allí su regalo ante el altar y vayan; reconcíliate primero con tu hermano o hermana y después ven y presenta tu ofrenda.

La adoración que es más agradable a Dios es amor al prójimo. Si desea dar a su papá un regalo mientras estabas enojado con tu hermano o hermana o ellos con usted, ¿qué diría tu padre probablemente a usted? "Hacer las paces y luego, por todos los medios, ven a ofrecerme lo que queráis".

Pero el amor Jesús afirmó que Dios quiere que nosotros tratemos otra gente con amor, y las palabras del profeta Oseas muestran que este deseo de Dios había sido hecho ya conocido en el Antiguo Testamento. El amor siempre debería tener prioridad sobre otras leyes. Para cristianos el amor es la única fundación legítima en la cual todas las reglas deberían estar basadas.

Misericordia es la principal cualidad del amor de Dios hacia nosotros y El quiere que nuestro amor tenga esta cualidad. Para Jesús, Dios es, en primer lugar, el Misericordioso, el Padre que ama el bien y el mal, que provoca el sol sobre justos e injustos por igual. ¿Por qué? Porque Dios ama a todos y, por lo tanto, no debe sorprendernos que Jesús no tiene miedo de compartir la compañía con los pecadores. Al hacerlo, nos muestra cómo es Dios.

Yo deseo misericordia... y no sacrificio. Si no amamos a nuestro hermano y hermana, nuestro sacrificio, nuestra adoración no será aceptable para or no es solamente la ley fundamental de la vida cristiana, también es la manera más directa corazón de Dios. En su corazón, Dios "desea" la misericordia. Podemos satisfacer ese deseo en hacer misericordioso con otros. Nuestra misericordia hacia los demás nos acerca al corazón de Dios, nuestra devoción crece y somos conscientes del vínculo que se establece entre nosotros y el Señor.

Misericordia significa no discriminar entre las personas. Significa no excluir a nadie. Significa ser como Dios, nuestro Padre, ofreciendo lo que somos capaces de dar a todos: nuestro amor. Cielo deplora tanto los grandes como los pequeños desacuerdos en nuestras vidas. Para resolverlas rápidamente, y, como dice la Escritura, nunca deje caer el sol sobre vuestro enojo hacia nadie. Decidamos ser misericordiosos y cada día será una fiesta de la Divina Misericordia.
